

Ajit Chauhan lives in the sanctuary city of San Francisco, California. He works with adults with developmental disabilities at Creativity Explored, reads a lot, plays with cats, and practices tai chi. His work has been exhibited at the Saatchi Gallery in London, CCA Wattis Institute for Contemporary Arts, the Berkeley Art Museum, Asian Art Museum, UC Davis Museum, the Grimm Museum in Berlin, the SONS Museum in Kruishoutem, Belgium, White Columns NY, Jack Hanley Gallery, Annarumma Gallery, SVIT Praha, Et al. / Et al. etc., Fused, Anglim/Trimble, Headlands Center for the Arts, and recently at the KMAC Museum in Louisville, Kentucky.